OUTLINE OF OFFICIAL OATH AND BOND REQUIREMENTS

I. SCOPE OF OUTLINE

This outline sets forth the oath and bond requirements for the majority of county and precinct officers and officials. Each reference contains the Constitutional and Statutory requirements that relate to the various officers. This outline is not intended as a comprehensive listing of all officers or their qualifications for offices. The exclusion of requirements for a particular officer, therefore, does not mean that requirements do not exist. Any questions regarding the requirements for a particular officer should be addressed to your local county clerk, county or district attorney, the Secretary of State, or the Attorney General.

Also included are the requirements for some county boards and agencies as well as some local and regional political subdivisions. Once again, the outline is not intended to be comprehensive. There may be other boards, agencies and political subdivisions which have not been included.

If you detect errors, or think that the information stated in this outline is incorrect, please contact the legal department of the Texas Association of Counties.

II. OFFICIAL OATH AND STATEMENT OF OFFICER

Historical Background

The oath of office first appeared in the Constitution of 1845<sup>1</sup>. The clause requiring a denial of bribery first appeared in the present constitution<sup>2</sup> and was the direct outcome of the official corruption which had reached alarming proportions during the reconstruction period.<sup>3</sup> In 1956, Article XVI, §1 was amended to add an oath to be taken by the Secretary of State and all other appointive officers of the State.

The 1989 amendment to Article XVI, §1, separated the oath into an oath and a Statement of Officer, also known as the “bribery statement”. Although characterized in the Constitution as a “statement”, it is likewise an oath in the sense that it is sworn. The prior oath had contained the bribery statement within the oath itself. The present language of both the oath and the bribery statement are virtually identical to the language of the previous oath. The 1989 amendment also required that the bribery statement be filed with the Secretary of State prior to the taking of the official oath.

The Constitution was amended in 2001 to require only members of the Legislature, the Secretary of State, and all other elected and appointed state officers to file the statement with the Secretary of State. All other local officers are required to retain the signed statement with the official records of the office. The term “state officer” as used in Article XVI, §1(c) does not include local officers.<sup>4</sup>

Official Oath and Statement Required

Before taking the oath of office, all elected and appointed state officials are required to sign the statement of officer (bribery statement). A copy of the statement and the oath are included in the Appendix. They may be duplicated for your convenience.

Before entering upon the duties of office, all elected and appointed officials are required to take the official oath.<sup>5</sup> The oath requirement is repeated in many of the statutes relating to various officers. Some officers are required to take additional oaths related to their particular offices. These statutory oaths are often construed as required oaths in addition to the official oath.

Section 601.008(c), Texas Government Code provides that the official acts of a person who fails to qualify as an officer are void.<sup>6</sup> Additionally, a person who has not qualified for office is not entitled to receive payment as the officer or exercise the powers or jurisdiction of the office.<sup>7</sup> Without having qualified for office, a person has no right to the position.<sup>8</sup> However, where an officer has taken the oath and given a bond, which has been accepted without objection and not questioned at any time during the term, the officer may nonetheless be held to be a de jure<sup>9</sup> officer even if the qualification was not in strict compliance with the law.<sup>10</sup>

There are relatively few court cases regarding the failure to take an official oath. Several criminal cases hold that the failure of a judicial officer to take the oath renders his acts null and void. In other cases, however, courts have held that the failure of an official to subscribe to the oath will simply render him a de facto officer and not invalidate his acts.<sup>11</sup> It should be noted that §601.008 is broad and appears to be applicable to all officers.

Persons Who May Administer Oaths

Chapter 602 of the Government Code governs who may administer oaths.<sup>12</sup> An oath in this state may be administered and a certificate of the fact given by: 1) a judge or clerk of municipal court, in a matter pertaining to a duty of the court; 2) a judge, retired judge, senior judge, clerk, or commissioner of a court of record; 3) a justice of the peace or a clerk of a justice court; 4) a notary public; 5) a member of a board or commission created by a law of this state, in a matter pertaining to a duty of the board or commission; 6) a person employed by the Texas Ethics Commission who has a duty related to a report required by Title 15, Election Code, in a matter pertaining to that duty; 7) a county tax assessor-collector or an employee of the county tax assessor-collector if the oath relates to a document that is required or authorized to be filed in the office of the county tax assessor-collector; 8) the Secretary of State; 9) an employee of a personal bond office if the oath is required or authorized by Article 17.04 or by Article 26.04(n) or (o), Code of Criminal Procedure; 10) the lieutenant governor; 11) the speaker of the house of representatives; 12) the governor; 13) a legislator or retired legislator; 14) the Attorney General; 15) the secretary or clerk of a municipality in a matter pertaining to the official business of the municipality; 16) a peace officer described by Art. 2.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, if: (A) the oath is administered when the officer is engaged in the performance of the officer's duties; and (B) the administration of the oath relates to the officer's duties.<sup>13</sup>

Who Must Take the Oath and Statement

Generally

The major question that has arisen under Article XVI, §1, is what officers are required to take the oath.<sup>14</sup> Simply put, the oath is required of everyone who takes office under the authority of the state or its subdivisions.<sup>15</sup> The lack of a requirement for the official oath in the law creating the office is not a factor.<sup>16</sup> That is because article XVI, §1, would be meaningless if the prescribing of an oath were indispensable to the creation of an office, for by merely failing to prescribe that an oath should be taken, the legislature would be able to defeat the constitutional requirement.<sup>17</sup>

Elected Officers

With regard to elected officers, the provision is clear – if elected, the oath and statement are required. Therefore, the applicability of Article XVI, §1, to elected officers should rarely be a question.

When An Elected Officer May Take the Oath

County officers-elect frequently ask whether they may take the oath of office before January 1 of the year in which the term begins. According to the Texas Secretary of State, a person elected to a full term may not take the oath before January 1 following the general election at which the person was elected.

A person elected to an unexpired term takes the oath as soon as possible after election to the unexpired term.

A person appointed to fill a vacancy in an office may take the oath and take other actions as necessary to qualify for the office as soon as possible after the appointment.

Appointed Officers

Article XVI, §1 (a) and (b) also require that all appointed officers take the oath and statement.<sup>18</sup> While these requirements appear simple, the question of who is an “appointed officer” for purposes of the oath and statement is often difficult to determine. In making this determination, the first question that must be asked is whether the person holding a particular appointed position is a public “officer” or simply an employee. If an “officer”, then compliance with Article XVI, §1, is required.

The determining factor which distinguishes a public officer from an employee is whether any sovereign function of the government is conferred upon the individual to be exercised by him or her for the benefit of the public largely independent of others’ control.<sup>19</sup>

Elements which distinguish a public office from mere public employment are:

- a. The office is created by the Constitution or by the Legislature, or created by a municipality or other body through authority conferred by the Legislature.<sup>20</sup> Offices are created by law, express or implied, and none can exist except by its sanction.<sup>21</sup> By contrast, an employment may be and frequently is, created by contract.<sup>22</sup>

- b. The office must possess a delegation of a portion of the sovereign power of government, to be exercised for the benefit of the public.<sup>23</sup>
- c. The powers conferred and the duties to be discharged must be defined, directly or impliedly, by the Legislature or through Legislative authority.<sup>24</sup>
- d. The duties must be performed independently and without control of a superior power, other than the law, unless they be those of an inferior or subordinate office, created or authorized by the legislature, and by it placed under the general control of a superior officer or body.<sup>25</sup>
- e. The office must have some permanency and continuity, and not be only temporary or occasional.<sup>26</sup>

Additional evidence of the existence of an office, rather than of mere employment:

- f. The creating law refers to the position as an officer.<sup>27</sup>
- g. The creating law requires the person to be appointed with the advice and consent of the Senate.<sup>28</sup>
- h. The creating law prescribes the qualifications for holding the position.<sup>29</sup>
- i. Service for a definite term.<sup>30</sup>
- j. The requirement of a bond.<sup>31</sup>

CONST. art. XVI, §17 (Each officer, whether elected or appointed under the laws of this State, and the term provided by law and until his successor is elected or appointed and qualifies. This provision, however, is not applicable unless the individual is an "officer").

Assistants and Deputies

The question of the applicability of Article XVI, §, becomes even more difficult when attempting to determine whether a particular assistant or deputy of an official is required to take the oath and statement. It is important to recognize that “assistant” includes those who aid, whether sworn or not sworn, whereas a “deputy” implies only the sworn class.<sup>32</sup>

Ordinarily, the appointment of a deputy is required to be in writing and he or she is required to take the oath.<sup>33</sup> As a rule, a deputy may do anything that can be done by his or her principal, whereas an assistant’s duties are ordinarily to be performed in conjunction with and under the direction of the principal.<sup>34</sup> If the principal is denominated an officer, the deputy is also an officer.<sup>35</sup> Deputy sheriffs, deputy constables, deputy county clerks, and departmental chief clerks have all been held to be “officers”.<sup>36</sup> Therefore, although the term “assistant” would include deputies, only those “assistants” that can be classified as “deputies” are required to be sworn.

Conclusion

Where there is doubt about the applicability of Article XVI, §1, to a particular appointed position, compliance should be considered. There is no harm in complying with Article XVI, §1, but there might be adverse consequences if there is no compliance and the Attorney General or a court later determines that Article XVI, §1, applies to the position. If an officer is one who is required to take the oath, his official actions may be void if he fails to do so. Based on the current case law, the failure of a judge in a criminal prosecution to subscribe to the oath will render all subsequent acts void. However, the failure of other officials to subscribe to the official oath will not invalidate their acts. It is important to note

III. OFFICIAL BONDS

Officers required by law to give an official bond shall file the bond with the officer’s oath of office.<sup>37</sup> Generally, the required bonds must be given before an officer begins performance of any duties of office. An officer who is required by law to give an official bond and who fails to execute the bond within the time prescribed by law may be removed from office.<sup>38</sup>

SB 373 was passed by the 82nd Legislature. Section 4 of the bill amends TEX. LOC. GOV. CODE, Chapter 83 by adding §§83.008 and 83.009. §83.008 provides “that if the county treasurer employs only one assistant or deputy, the county treasurer shall execute a surety bond to cover the assistant or deputy and shall execute a schedule security bond or blanket surety bond to cover all other employees of the office. If a county treasurer employs more than one assistant or deputy, the county treasurer shall execute a blanket surety bond to cover the assistants or deputies and all other employees of the office.”<sup>39</sup>

General Requirements for County Officers

January 1 is the beginning of the regular term for county and precinct officers elected in the previous general election in November.<sup>40</sup> Those elected officers are to qualify and assume the duties of the office on, or as soon as possible after, January 1.<sup>41</sup> In order to qualify for office, each elected and appointed officer must:

Article XVI, § 1 of the Texas Constitution requires all elected or appointed state and local officers to take the official oath of office found in § 1(a) and to subscribe to the anti-bribery statement found in § 1(b) before entering upon the duties of their offices. State-level officers required to file the anti-bribery statement with the secretary of state include members of the Legislature, the Secretary of State, and all other officers whose jurisdiction is coextensive with the boundaries of the state or who immediately belong to one of the three branches of state government.
